Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1400 on Sunday 17 Oct 2021

UK Outlook for Friday 22 Oct 2021 to Sunday 31 Oct 2021:
Sunny spells and showers for most areas at the start of this period with some places remaining dry. Feeling breezy at times especially along northern, eastern and southern coasts. Temperatures falling to below average for most across the UK, increasing the likelihood of snow and wintery conditions over higher ground restricted to northern areas. It will likely turn unsettled again over the weekend as cloud, rain and stronger winds arrive from the west. Unsettled conditions then likely to persist towards the end of October across the UK. Temperatures most likely trending up after a colder start to this period. Any further spells of colder weather likely short lived and restricted to the north of the UK.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.